

Society Chat OF THE Week

MONTH SHOULD BE GAY ONE SOCIALLY

Two Balls Scheduled for Early Part, at Colonial Hotel—Past Week Marked By Three Notable Weddings—Society Unusually Busy In Summer.

ONE of the smartest and most select social functions of the season is scheduled on the social calendar for July 7th, when Dr. and Mrs. James Judd will entertain at a dancing party that is to be given at the Colonial Hotel. Two hundred invitations are being issued and the event is being anticipated by the fortunate number of the smart set that have been invited. A diversion in the form of bridge will be provided for the guests who do not care to participate in the terpsichorean art. Following is the form of the invitation that has been issued for this delightful affair:

Birthday Party Celebration.

General and Mrs. Soper entertained Thursday evening in honor of their daughter, Miss Ruth Soper's sixteenth birthday. The nature of the entertainment was a dancing party, to which about sixteen young people were invited. The Sopers' home, on Lunalilo and Pensacola streets, was handsomely decorated throughout with golden shower. The library, drawing-room and dining-room were thrown in one; the floors of these commodious rooms were waxed and made an ideal place for dancing. A Hawaiian quintet club was placed in the large bow window in the drawing-room and discoursed music for waltzes and two-steps. The dancing programs were ornamented with hand-painted figures of college and society girls. At 11 o'clock delicious refreshments were served in the large grounds, that were brilliantly lighted with electricity. Among those present were General and Mrs. Soper, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Hazel Buckland, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Carol Love, Miss Rosalie Herbert, Miss Collinda Low, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss D. Damon, Miss Margaret Restorick, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Ramona Marlow, Miss A. Ashley, Miss L. McGrew, Mr. Lester Marks, Mr. Ned Burnham and others.

Members of Minutes Club to Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atherton will chaperone a party of society young folk on a picnic party that is to be given by the members of the Minutes Club. The affair will be given on the 4th of July at Mrs. Sam Allen's place at Kaneohe, situated on the windward side of the island. The party will leave town early in the morning in motors. Before luncheon a dip in the briny deep will be taken, which will serve to whet their appetites for the delicious luncheon that will be served later. Among the young people that will enjoy this delightful outing are Miss Ruth Richards, Miss Belle McCriston, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Juliette and Miss Laura Atherton, Miss Marjorie and Miss Cordelia Gilman, Misses McClesney (2), Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Ethel McKenzie, Miss McLean, Miss Anna Tucker, Miss Alice Brown, Miss Fannie Hoogs, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Sarah Lucas, Miss Helen North, Miss Bessie and Miss Alice Hopper, Miss Marjorie Peterson, Miss Helen Gervin, Mr. Robert Catton, Mr. Ted Cooke, Mr. Jack Guard, Mr. Richard Catton, Mr. Charley McLean, Jr.

Mrs. James Hough's Garden Party.

A coterie of friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. James Hough at a "garden party" that was given Tuesday afternoon in the palm grove of the Seaside Hotel. Chairs and small tables were placed under the waving tropical palms, and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. The women in their pretty summer frocks, large picture hats and fluffy parasols contributed to the smartness of the occasion. Mrs. Hough and Miss Hough have not only been extensively entertained, but have figured among the Honolulu hostesses during the spring and summer months. They have made numerous warm friends, who are delighted that they changed their plans in regard to sailing on the Siberia for home and will remain in Honolulu until the Manchuria sails in July.

Mrs. Pardee Entertains.

Mrs. Pardee entertained the Fortnightly Wednesday Bridge Club at her home at Fort Shafter Thursday. The regular Wednesday meeting was postponed on account of Mrs. Macomb's bridge tea. Mrs. Pardee had a special guest prize for Mrs. Neville, wife of Major Neville of the United States Marine Corps. The dainty gift was a hand-painted laundry list. Mrs. Wilcox, wife of Lieutenant Wilcox of the United States revenue cutter, was awarded the first prize, a handsome Canton china teapot, encased in a teacoy. Mrs. Arthur Marx, wife of Captain Marx, U. S. M. C., won the second prize, china coasters in oriental ware, that are so universally used under water glasses, that serve to enhance the table appointments for dinner or luncheon. After the awarding of the prizes, delicious refreshments were served. The full complement of club members was present.

Dr. and Mrs. Judd's Dinner.

One of the most pleasurable affairs on the social calendar was the dinner given Wednesday evening, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Putnam, by Dr. and Mrs. James Judd at their beautiful home 927 Prospect street. The elaborate dinner was served at seven o'clock, at a circular table bedecked with yellow chrysanthemums. A low silver eperne, filled with flowers produced an exquisite floral centerpiece. Silver candle sticks with yellow satin shades, fringed with gold fringe, were artistically placed around the centerpiece. The place cards were embossed in gold with clever rhymes that applied to the idiosyncrasies of the host, hostess and guests—the reading of them excited much joviality and mirth. After dinner bridge whist was enjoyed. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. James Judd, Dr. and Mrs. Putnam, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Dwinell, Mr. Lawrence Judd and Dr. Hedeman.

Mrs. James Hough's Dinner.

American Beauty roses graced the table at the dinner party at which Mrs. James Hough presided on Wednesday of this week. The delightful affair was given at the Seaside Hotel. Covers were laid for twelve. Maiden hair and green tulle made a pretty accessory for the table, the latter was cleverly introduced in the arrangement of the centerpiece. The almonds were served in containers, designed to represent roses. Bon bons in shades of pink and green, containing caps in the same colors were found at each place. The dainty caps were worn during the dinner and proved very becoming to the fair sex. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Hough's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson, Captain and Mrs. Carter, U. S. A., Miss Jamieson, Miss Katherine Stephens, Mrs. Cleghorn, Miss Helen Hough, Lieutenant Vaughn and Mr. Percy Cleghorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey's Dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. Putnam of Kauai were the guests of honor at a dinner Tuesday evening, that was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dwight Lowrey at their home on the corner of Victoria and Lunalilo streets. Mrs. Lowrey is a cousin of the Damons—the dinner was mostly a family affair and was extremely informal. The color scheme was yellow and green, covers were arranged for ten. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dwight Lowrey, Dr. and Mrs. Putnam, President and Mrs. Griffiths of Punahou College, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Ida Kopke, Mr. Bert Clark and Mr. Sherwood Lowrey.

Social Function at Hotel Colonial Saturday.

Mrs. Edward J. Timberlake and Mrs. John Stewart Johnston of Fort Ruger issued invitations for a bridge tea that will be given Saturday, July the eighth at the Hotel Colonial. The bridegrooms have been invited for half-after two. Shortly before five a number of friends who do not care for bridge will drop in for tea. Eight tables will be arranged for cards. It is needless to state that this coming social function will be numbered as one of the most notable of the week, for the hostesses are universal favorites in society, and possess a wonderful gift, when entertaining, of making their guests enjoy every minute of their hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanzy to Entertain.

A large and elaborate reception will be given a week from today by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mills Swanzy. The reception will be given in honor of their daughter, who has recently returned from a fashionable finishing school in the East.

The following invitations have been received:

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mills Swanzy and Miss Swanzy
At Home
Saturday, the eighth of July, from four to six.
"Lihinauna"
Manoa Road.

U. S. Naval Ball.

The following invitations have been received through the mail:

The Officers of the United States Naval Station request the pleasure of your presence at a dance to be given at "The Colonial" on Tuesday evening, July the eleventh, at nine o'clock.
R. S. V. P.

Mrs. von Holt's Luncheon.

Mrs. Francis Gay of Kauai was entertained Monday by Mrs. Henry von Holt at luncheon. Every detail of the entertainment was beautiful, and proved enjoyable, not only to the guest of honor, but the other guests as well, who were mostly intimate friends of the hostess and the popular Kauai society matron. Yellow and green were the predominant colors used in the decorations. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Henry von Holt's hospitality were Mrs. Francis M. Gay, Mrs. Frank Putnam, Mrs. Kopke, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Robert Bond, Miss Agnes Walker, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Charles Elston and Miss Phinney of Oakland, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder will entertain Thursday evening of next week in honor of Mrs. Elliott, wife of Captain Elliott, U. S. N., who is visiting Lieutenant and Mrs. Ross Kingsbury of the U. S. Marine Corps. Thursday's social function will be in the nature of a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanzy's Dinner.

One of the enjoyable dinners that was given on Wednesday of this week was the occasion on which Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy entertained in honor of Professor and Mrs. Mead.

Mrs. Arthur Marx's Luncheon.

Invitations have been issued for a luncheon that is to be given Thursday, July the sixth, by Mrs. Arthur Marx at her home on Kinau street. Covers will be arranged for twelve.

Mrs. Putnam's Tea.

The smart set of Honolulu enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Frank Putnam, of Kauai, when she entertained at tea, at the Oahu Country Club from 4 to 6 Wednesday afternoon. A profusion of Wampanoac Coche roses and pink begonias were used in the adornment of the living room. Baskets filled with roses and begonias were suspended from the ceiling, an artistic and tropical arrangement of palms were admired, lending additional beauty to the decorative scheme. The artistic stone mantle was banked with lilies and ferns. The tea was given in honor of Miss Vera Damon and Miss Beatrice Car-

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF THE SMART SET

Mrs. George R. Carter was the charming hostess at an informal picnic given at her beautiful Kaikou residence. The honored guests on this occasion were the young women of Kailani Home. Mrs. Carter is in great sympathy with all things which tend to the uplifting of womanhood, and Kailani Home surely holds one of the most enviable reputations for the uplifting and benefitting of young girls. Mrs. Carter's autos took the thirty-eight guests to Kaikou, where a swim in a splendid tank built in the ocean was enjoyed, after which a delicious picnic luncheon was partaken of.

The social activities for the week will end with a dancing party that will be given at the Moana Hotel this evening. Following is the form of the invitations that have been issued:

The management of the Moana Hotel request the pleasure of your company for a Ball to be given in honor of the Officers of the English Cruisers Kent and Challenger. Saturday evening at nine o'clock.

Mrs. Sarah Grace, with her two daughters, Mollie and Lulu, were departing passengers on the Wilhelmina. They expect to visit in California for three months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, who have been guests at the St. Francis for the past two months, will be homecoming passengers on the Sierra. Mr. and Mrs. Harris went as far as Utah, also took in Tahoe. They, like all other Honoluluans, will be delighted to come home.

Tennis is going to be a most popular entertainment for the young people this summer, and among the High School and Punahou students is to be found some excellent material for future tournaments. It is splendid exercise and is greatly encouraged both by parents and school faculties.

Professor and Mrs. Mead have been visiting the Harold Castles at Waikeiki; next week they will be the guests of Mrs. Castle Coleman. Mr. Henry Mead and Mr. Harding will leave Tuesday for a three weeks' visit on Kauai. Later they are planning to spend two weeks at the Volcano House on Hawaii.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Roy Francis Smith and their house guest, Miss Cutman, motored to Lihoua Saturday to attend the regimental ball that was given at Schofield Barracks. The trio were the dinner guests of Lieutenant and Mrs. Cunningham of the Fifth Cavalry.

Miss Grace Parsons of Milton & Parsons, will leave on Monday for the coast to buy fall millinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abrams have purchased a country home at the Peninsula and are planning to spend all summer at this delightful place.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Wood are planning and arranging their new country house on the other side of this island.

Stag Dinner at Haleiwa.

A farewell stag dinner was tendered Captain Moor Falls the former Honolulu Army quartermaster, who will leave on July second for the mainland, where he has been ordered. The dinner was given at the Haleiwa Hotel by a coterie of friends. Following are those that attended: Captain Falls, Hon. E. Mott-Smith, Captain Clifton Carter, Captain Game, the new quartermaster; Captain F. Edwards, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Mr. M. F. Prosser, Mr. Henry Cobb, Mr. Harold Dillingham, Mr. Fred Smith and Lieut. Gaylor, U. S. N. The party went down to this popular suburban hotel, in a special car, and returned to town by moonlight.

Andrews-Merrill Nuptials.

Near to a New England home wedding as possible was the ceremony which united Mr. Carl Andrews and Miss Laura Ann Merrill in matrimony bonds, Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards. The spacious hall was a low-mead, Miss Lord, Miss Turk, Mrs. Beatrice Holdsworth.

formed by the Rev. A. A. Ebersole. Miss Merrill looked charming in a wedding gown of white satin and Princess lace, with a veil arranged in the Marie Antoinette style, ornamented with natural orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns was carried. The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Richards, who was a picture in a marseilles green net, over satin, embroidered in green and pink. A spray of the Cassia Nodosa blossom, tied with green streamers of gauze was carried.

Mr. Carl Andrews' best man was Mr. Spencer Bowen, who is an intimate friend of long standing. At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Andrews received the good wishes of a large gathering of friends. The beautiful home of the Theodore Richards was decorated in white and green, that being the color scheme chosen for the decorations. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. The cakes were made at the Normal School, and the pupils of the school, where Miss Merrill has been a teacher for the past two years served the refreshments. On their return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will take possession of the beautiful residence, which is being completed for them by E. A. P. Newcomb, one of the leading architects of the city. The house is a refreshingly new thought in its Italian design. The detail and coloring produce a very harmonize effect, against the mountain background at the head of Wyllie street, where the house is situated.

Mrs. Jane Walker and family are occupying the E. Faxon Bishop's house at Waikeiki.

Mrs. William Lucas has been the guest of the M. F. Prossers ever since her arrival from California. Mrs. Lucas moved into her own home on Green street, Thursday of this week.

Mrs. F. R. Day has been the guest of Miss Mary Alexander's artistic bungalow on Mount Tantalus.

Mrs. Fannie C. Macaulay, the gifted writer, is planning to visit friends in Honolulu, when she returns from the Orient in the spring.

Major Duncan will leave July second on the transport for Fort Leavenworth, where he will attend the army school.

Mrs. T. Rain Walker and her daughter, Miss Beatrice Walker, of England, are expected next month, to make a several months' visit in the islands. Mrs. Walker possesses numerous friends, having resided for a number of years in Honolulu, when her husband was British Consul to the islands. During a portion of their visit the distinguished guests will visit Mr. and Mrs. T. Clive Davies.

Captain and Mrs. Hand and two children will arrive in this city on July thirteenth. Captain Hand is a field artillery officer and will be stationed at Schofield Barracks.

The son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman are expected to arrive in Honolulu July 11th, from the East, where they have been attending school. Miss Sherman has been a pupil at the master school, Dolba Perry. Young Mr. Sherman is planning to enter Williams College and has been attending a preparatory school with that end in view. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gault will accompany them to Honolulu with their two boys, Jack and Carter, who have been attending school in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Taylor, the former is a prominent civil engineer of New Mexico, are in Honolulu and have apartments at the Colonial Hotel. Mr. Hugh Taylor is in the islands seeking rest, the doctors having ordered him away, for a time, from his arduous business affairs.

New millinery department at Jordan's. Hats trimmed to order.
